

Kol Hadash
HUMANISTIC CONGREGATION

TWO TRADITIONS ONE HOME

CREATING INTERCULTURAL FAMILIES

Saturday, March 6, 2010

10:00 AM–12:00 PM

175 Olde Half Day Road, Lincolnshire Illinois

Many families today come from different cultural and religious backgrounds. Humanistic Judaism is a welcoming Jewish option for these families. Come explore the challenges and possibilities with us!

Rabbi Adam Chalom is the Rabbi of Kol Hadash Humanistic Congregation in Lincolnshire, Illinois. He is also the Dean for North America of the International Institute for Secular Humanistic Judaism. Rabbi Miriam Jerris is the Rabbi of the Society for Humanistic Judaism. Herself married to a born Catholic (now a Humanist), Rabbi Jerris has served intercultural couples and families for twenty-five years.

NO CHARGE • Light refreshments provided

Engaged/married/same-sex couples, not-yet-parents/parents/grandparents and adult children of intermarriage are all welcome.

RSVP by March 2 to Rabbi Chalom
(rabbichalom@KolHadash.com, 847-347-3003)

WWW.KOLHADASH.COM